Faculty Senate Minutes
February 18, 1952

The classes, Farm Power and Farm Machinery, always have full enrollments and freshmen students have been allowed to enroll only if there is space left. Mr. Schmitt reported that they would be able to arrange to take care of students who enrolled for the one-year program.

Minutes of the meeting of the Faculty Senate, Monday, February 18, 1952, in the Dean's Office at 4:30 p.m.

Members present: about it. Dr. Thompson said that he would not be surprised if a hundred students enrolled for such a program next semester. Dr. Coder said that E. R. McCartney had many enrolled.

Members present: Standlee V. Dalton
Ralph V. Coder
C. Thomas Barr

Geneva Herndon
Joel Moss
Emmet Stopher
Leonard Thompson

Members present: Alice Reesley that they should be allowed to enroll for such a program even if the time they do not intend to complete work for a degree. In some cases, after this one year in college, they will come back for a degree.

RECOMMENDATION: Miss Harold S. Choguill the suggested secretarial course be approved.
Seconded: Ivan Richardson

RECOMMENDATION: Mr. Moss moved that we approve the suggested one-year program in agriculture. The meeting was called to order by the chairman, Dr. McCartney, who said this special meeting was called in order to consider an intensive secretarial training program which Dr. Thompson had worked out. (See attached Program.) adjourned.

Copies of the program were passed out to the members of the Senate for their consideration. It was suggested that such a program might be printed and would be available for those who inquire about taking courses in the department. This type of program would show exactly what may be done in the first year of college and will do away with any misunderstanding by prospective students who, in the past, have said they were promised they might enroll in any course in the department. The private business schools do a lot of high pressure selling of their schools and also promise students jobs when they finish. This suggested program would be something concrete for prospective students to study and to use in comparison of the two schools.

The agriculture department also prepared a one-year plan of study for their department which was presented to the committee. (See attached program.)

In these programs it was suggested that one class especially for students following the program would be offered and it is probable that one section would be sufficient. It would probably be advantageous to set aside a section of English specifically for these students.

The classes, Farm Power and Farm Machinery, always have full enrollments and freshmen students have been allowed to enroll only if there is space left. Mr. Schmutz reported that they would be able to arrange to take care of students who enrolled for the one-year program.

First Semester

Second Semester

Dr. Thompson reported that he has received many inquiries regarding a program of this nature and also that Dr. Scott and Mr. Burnett have been asked about it. Dr. Thompson said that he would not be surprised if a hundred students enrolled for such a program next semester. Dr. Codrington said that if there were that many enrolled, it would require four English sections for the group.
